THE COURTS FOR THE NEW YEAR.

Supreme Court. The New Year promises to open briskly in this pourt. In all the branches of the court the calenrs are unusually heavy. The General Term opens its January term on Tuesday with Judges ingraham, Barnard and Cardozo on the bench. Many important cases await the adjudication of this appellate Court, including some of the com-plications growing out of the charges of plications growing out of the charges of frand against certain officials of the city and county governments. Judge Van Brunt holds Part I and Judge Brady Part 2, or rather the latter Judge continues into January the December term, in order to go on with the trial between Murray and Coulter, the rival contestants for the position of Police Justice in the Yorkville district. There will be no Special Term in January. Judge Barrett, the newly-elected Judge, will enter upon his new judicial career by holding Chambers. Over the Court of Oyer and Terminer Judge Ingraham will continue to preside.

They are slow in getting to work in this Court, as the trial terms will not open till the 8th of the nth, but when once the judicial wheels get in motion there will be plenty to do, as the trial caiendars are crowded with cases. Part 1 of the Trial Terms will be presided over by Judge Curlis, the newly elected judge, and Part 2 oy Judge Monell, Judges McCunn, Freedman and Seagwick: the last Judge, also a new wearer of the ermine, will sit in General Term. COURT OF SPECIAL SESSIONS.

The Year's Work Well Done-A Brutal Hus band.

At ten o'clock yesterday morning the above Cour was opened the last time for the year 1871. There was a rather brief calendar to be gone through with, but so much time was consumed in the trial of some of the cases that it was nearly one o'clock before the adjournment took piace. It may not be amiss to state in this connection that there is not to-day to state in this connection that there is not to-day an untried case on the Court books, everything having been cleared off and disposed of by Judge Dowling in a manner as creditable to himself as it is gratifying to the people.

The only case of any particular importance tried yesterday was that of Anna Reynolds vs. Peter Reynolds—her husband. Mrs. Reynolds is a good-looking and decidedly intelligent-appearing lady, about twenty-live years of age. Her nusband, on the contrary, is as brutal and as ignorant in appearance almost as a cannibal and is some years the senior of his wife. From the story told by Mrs. Reynolds in Court it appears that she has had anything but an enviable existence ever since she first cast her fortunes with those of her husband. He has whipped her as though she were his slave mistead of his helpmate, and has, upon several occasions, declared his intention of taking her life. A day or two since he attacked her while at dinner with a knite and fork and compelled her to fee the house for protection. Mrs. Reynolds also states that her father has twice set Reynolds up in business, and twice has he squandered every cent he had thus obtained.

Atter listening patiently to the case Judge Dow-twice has he squandered every cent he had thus obtained.

After listening patiently to the case Judge Dowling said he should find the defendant guity, and should give him six months in the Penitentiary. He (the Judge) had known Mrs. Reynolds from childhood, and was well aware that it was a bad day for her when she married the man whose daily occupation is now to malifered her.

Keynolds protested (all similar brutes do) that he was innocent of lil-treating his wife, and declared the whole affair was a "put-up job" to deprive him of his liberty.

THE CALLENDER CASE.

Motion to Dismiss the Complaint Denied— Decision of Commissioner Osborn. Yesterday Commissioner Osborn rendered his and discharge the delendant, Charles Callender, who is charged with having accepted bribes with the view of influencing his repole, as a bank examiner, in relation to the affairs of the Ocean Bank.

The following is the decision of the Commissioner:-The defendant's counsel moves to dismiss the complaint and for the discharge of his client on the testimony of the prosecution, on the ground that there is no, or at least insufficient, evidence to hold him for trial. I am of opinion, upon the facts that there is no, or at least insufficient, evidence to hold him for trial. I am of opinion, upon the facts presented, that the examination made by defendant of the condition of the Ocean National Bank on the 2d and 4th days of October, 1871, athough made at the request of one of the directors of the bank, was an official act of the defendant, for the reason that the Comptroller of the Currency recognized it as such, and assessed the said bank $100 to be paid the desendant for such service. No other report has been presented, and it the defendant pleads that he has not made a report contemplated by the statute, then it is for him to show why he has not made such a report, and give an explanation of the fact that he was paid by the bank, by order of the comptroler, for something which is not considered omicial. The defendant made the following certificate:—

Examined, these 3d and 4th days of October, and found correct as herewith checked. A most graiffying and satifactory progress evident in all branches. Entire barmony and earnest work on the part of all concerned will make the institution a grand success, and soon place it among our coundest institutions.

CHARLES CALLENDER.

Now what had the company to do with it if it factory progress evicent in all branches. Entire barmony and carmest work on the part of all concerned will make the institution a grand success, and soon place it among our soundest institutions.

Now what had the company to do with it if it was an unofficial act, made as a favor to the bank? Counsel for defendant argued that there is no evidence attacking the truth or correctness of said certificate, provided the Commissioner holds it to be an official report. There is testimony that defendant secured a loan of $76,000 from the bank upon checks drawn by him on banks in which he had no funds, two of which checks, upon the evidence, were counted as cash assets by him in his examination of the 3d and 4th of October, 1871, although he had deposited certain securities as collaterals of doubtful market value, and which, in fact, in the language of the President, had no general market value. These were counted by him as cash when, it strikes me, they should have been denominated loans. There is no evidence that ne examined the other securities of the bank, but merely took the statement as made up by the bookkeeper and certified to its correctness. The law contemplates a more careful scrutny into the vouchers and securities of a bank than a book statement made, and, until some explanation is given of his business transactions with that bank, the mode of his examination into its affairs as an officer of the government and the reasons for receiving such a large loan under such circumstances, which, upon the testimony of the President of the bank, is not usual and customary, I have a right to presume that he not only carelessly and negligently performed his duty but I am justified in believing that his decision was improperly and illegally influenced in the discharge of his duty.

LOST HIS MONEY.

A man giving his name as James Jones, and resilence at the Washington Hotel, on Friday night visited the Thirtieth street police station and reported visited the rairtieth street police station and reported that early in the evening he formed the acquaint-ance of Kate Williams, of 127 West Twenty-sixth street, and accompanied her to a room, where he claimed that she stole $56 in money from him. Officer Evans was sent to the house and arrested the woman. Upon appearing before Justice Ledwith at Jefferson Market, yesterday morning, Jones refused to make a complaint and the prisoner was discharged.

BOLD BURGLARY.

Captain Byrne, of the Fifteenth precinct, yester day discovered the rear window of Morrison & Co.'s millinery store open. He secured the shutter and put a policeman in charge of the place until the proprietors came. When they arrived it was discovered that a burglary had been committed and goods to the value of $600 taken away. Captain Hyrne is on the track of the housebreakers and expects soon to reach them.

The exports from all ports for the week were 51,594 bales, against 76,546 for the same time ast year. The stock at all the ports is 481,304 bales, against 531,039 for the same date in 1870. THE BANK STATEMENT.

The weekly statement of the associated banks proves favorable, owing to the large gain of species during the week by the prepayment of the January nterest. The legal tenders show a decrease o nearly a million, which would have been a considerable detriment had not the banks gained in specie. As it is the legal reserve is fortified enough to show a gain of over a million in the surplus reserve. The statement compares with its predeces-

MONEY ACTIVE AND IRREGULAR. The money market was easier early in the day, when lenders were disposed to make sure of employing their money over to Tuesday, and, although as high as 1-16 per cent was paid for turning stocks in the morning, the rate relaxed to 7 per cent a 7 gold, but suddenly hardened towards three o'clock, when there was considerable running for funds and dealings at 1-16 per cent again, with bank accounts deferred to as late as half-past three

STOCKS STRONG AND BUOVANT.

The stock market was heavy and dull during the forencon, owing to the uncertainty and agitation as to the deliveries of Wabash to be made to-day by the broker who yesterday sold about fifteen thouonly refused to give up his principals, but was unable to meet the demand for deposits kept the market in suspense by slowly delivering one or two thousand shares, which he is supposed to have bought back immediately after his heavy sale. But his inability to deliver more or make good the required deposits caused about seven thouand shares to be bought in "under the rule." Upon the remainder of the 15,000 shares he deliberately where his faiture was officially proclaimed. Although the transaction was one of large proportions. his losses will be about ¼ a ¼ per cent on about 12,000 shares-or, in figures, from $3,000 to $6,000 Had the market broken under his sales, as he anticipated, his winnings would have been at the rate of $15,000 for every one per cent of decline in Wabash. This matter adjusted, and the confusion and agitation brought to a head, the stock market resumed its strength and eventually assumed a buoyant tone, which, helped by the favorable character of the bank statement, resulted in a sharp advance in prices during the closing hours of business, Wabash going up to 7234, Northwest to 6834, Lake Shore to 9374, St. Paul to 56, Onios to 46%, Union Pacific to 29% and Western Union to 71%. A strong effort was made to rur Northwest up to 70, a bet of $10,000 having been made recently that it would sell there before the close of the year. The Southern State bonds were quiet and steady. Virginia consols advanced to HIGHEST AND LOWEST PRICES.

GERMAN EMIGRATION SETTING KANSAS-The officers of the Kansas Pacific Rallroad report

the granifying intelligence that German emigrants are arriving very rapidly and locating along the ine of the road in Kansas and Southern Colorado. The demand for lands exceeds that of any former year, and the locations average nearly a mile per day along the line of the rails and running back one section therefrom. It is expected that next summer will witness the advent in these states of many thousands more of industrious Germans, who seek a home and a competency in the New World.

SAPTAIN ALEXANDER'S BONDS.

That Newark Commission-Another Delay by the Defence-A Jerseyman Whom New Yorkers "Can't Bully." The now celebrated case of Virginia C. Burke vs. Ira C. Gardner and others impleaded, which, it will be remembered, was brought by Mrs. Burke as ex-ecutrix of Captain John Alexander, of New Orleans, deceased, to recover about sixty thousand dollars in bonds and money, of which her father, the de-ceased, died possessed in this city, was up again for hearing yesterday in Newark, N. J. The occasion yesterday was the sitting of a commission granted by Judge Loew, of the New York Court of granted by Judge Loew, of the New York Court of Common Pleas, to take testimony of certain witnesses resident in New Jersey in reference to their knowledge of the disposition made of Mr. Alexander's property, either prior or subsequent to his decision. Among the witnesses whom it was desirable to examine was Mrs. Zen, wife of Dr. Zen, of Newark, and daughter of the defendant, Gardner, Mr. Alexander having been at the period of his death and for some time previous a boarder in Mr. Gardner's lamily. Mrs. Burke was represented yesterday by Colonel A. H. H. Dawson, her counsel, and was herself also in attendance.

Colonel A. H. H. Dawson, her counsel, and was nerself also in attendance.

When the witness, Mrs. Zeh, was called, however, it was learned that she had not been subpœnaed, and a mere certificate of another physician was produced to show that Dr. Zeh's wife was indisposed. Ira Hatfield, the officer who had been charged with the service of the subpœna upon the doctor's wife, stated that he had been prevented from making any service, and had, in fact, been visited by Zeh, as appears from the following affidavit:—

visited by Zeh, as appears from the following affidavit:—

Suite of New Jerrey, Union County, so.:—Personally appeared fra Hatfield, who, being duly swore, states that within the last five days the deponent has made three distinct eforts to serve a suppean upon Mrs. Dr. Zeh in the case of Virginia C. Burke, executrix, vs. Ira C. Gardner et al., and that he has not been able to do so; that the conduct of Dr. Zeh has plainly shown that he anticipated that an effort would be made to serve a subpean upon Mrs. Zah, and that he was determined to prevent it; that he plainly told deponent that "these people need not think that they can come over here from New York to bully me, for Ull be dammed if Mrs. Zeh shall be served at all."

Sworn and subscribed before me this 30th day of December, 1871.—ADAN BROWN, Justice of the Peace.

Under these circumstances it became necessary to postpone the examination, which was accordingly done, Saturday, January 13, being named as the time. Meantime it is probable that steps will be taken to bring Dr. Zeh to account for preventing the officer from serving the writ. The servant's at the Continental Hotel, where Dr. Zeh and wife are restding, state that Mrs. Zeh has not been indisposed, but nas been out visiting considerably.

All through this extraordinary case each and every one of the defendants and those interested with them have displayed the ulmost repugnance to appearing in court, which, presumptively, could scarcely be the case if their showing could be made cierr and straightforward; as, if their case was not doubtful, they would with alacrity appear, disprove Mrs. Burke's allegations against them, and thus be rid of the annoyances of such a lingation. Mrs. Burke's persistency can alone, upon the merits of her case, result in her triumpn.

A CHEAP WAY OF SEEING NILSSON. Forged Cards of Admission to the Academy of Music. On looking over the cards of admission received at the door of the Academy of Music last Friday, Manager Strakosch discovered that several of them were lorgeries. He at once placed the case in the hands of Officer La Rue, of the Eighteenth precinct, who vesterday arrested Bernard Soto, No. 136 West Thirty-first street, and Thomas Savedra, of No. 38 University place. They were brought before Judge Shandley, at Essex Market Court, and the manager appeared to prefer the complaint.

The accused were well-dressed young Cubans, and denied any guilty knowledge of the affair, but said they had received the tickets in good faith, and had received them at least twenty times before from Ratiae Valdez Mateo, of 23 East Fourteenth street.
The officer then proceeded to arress Mr. Mateo, and the prisoners were discharged. Thirty-first street, and Thomas Savedra, of No. 38
